

30th May, 1986.

Attorney General -v- Peter Aubin.

Indecent Assault

The Bailiff: Very well Aubin, you have heard the Attorney General move in relation to your offence which is a serious one, but we understand from reading the reports that you have problems, some of which may not be of your own making. Therefore, we are prepared to place you on probation for three years, which means you will live and work as directed by the Probation Officer, you will be of good behaviour during that time, and you will come up for sentence if necessary if you break your probation, and it is a condition, which we note that you will accept, if you give us your undertaking that you will follow, will you? That you will attend the psychiatric clinic to be helped by Dr. Evans.
