

No 43. upon each particular parish. If the magistrates of a burgh can, by their own arbitrary will, without having any rule, divide the cess betwixt the proprietors of houses and those who live by commerce, they may subdivide it betwixt the manufacturers and traders, or order it to be laid on by quarters of the town. In a word, the magistrates cannot give any lawful instruction to the stent-master, other than to make a stent-roll valuing the rents, living, and goods and gear of each individual. Had the matter been set before the Court in this light, it would have left no room for any pretext of discretionary powers in the magistrates. They have not by law any discretionary power other than what relates to the choice of the stent-masters.

There was a reclaiming petition against the foregoing interlocutors, to which answers were given in ; and, in the replies, the foregoing reasoning was stated. But it came too late. The majority of the Court had taken a bias from the case as first stated to them ; and accordingly the interlocutors were affirmed.
