SCHEDULE 1

Paragraph 2(3)(d)

FORM 4A
The Simple Procedure Response Form

The Simple Procedure is a speedy, inexpensive and informal court procedure for settling or determining disputes with a value of £5,000 or less.

A claim has been raised against you under the Simple Procedure. You have been provided with a copy of the Claim Form which sets out the claim made against you.

The Simple Procedure Rules should be read alongside this form. They can be found on the Scottish Courts and Tribunals Service website. Please read the whole Response Form before beginning to complete it. There are guidance notes for each part of the form.

If you want to admit the claim against you and apply for time to pay, you do not need to complete this Response Form. Instead, you should complete a Time to Pay Application and send it to the court by the last date for a response. Only an individual (not a company or another type of organisation) may ask for time to pay.

Please note that if you do nothing, the court will almost certainly, if appropriate, award the claim to the claimant and order you to make a payment, including interest and expenses.

C. YOUR RESPONSE TO THE CLAIM

① You should decide how you intend to respond to this claim. There are three options. The flow-chart sets out the options on how you might respond. You should follow the instructions for the option you choose.

C1. I want to admit the claim and settle it before the last date for a response.

- ① You should select this option if you accept that the claim against you is correct and you are able to settle it with the claimant now.
- ① You do not need to complete Parts D and E.
- ① You should send this Response Form to the court and to the claimant. You should settle the claim with the claimant or the claimant's representative by the last date for a response.

C2. I want to dispute the claim.

- ① You should select this option if you do not accept that the claim against you is correct, and you want to:
 - argue that the court does not have jurisdiction,
 - dispute the entire claim, or
 - dispute the amount that is being claimed.
- ① You should complete this Response Form and send it to the court and to the claimant by the last date for a response. You will be sent written orders by the court telling you how to proceed.

D. ABOUT YOUR RESPONSE

D1. What is the background to this claim?

- ① In this part, you should set out the essential factual background to the claim. The claimant has set out their understanding in section D1 of the Claim Form. In particular, you should set out anything in section D1 of the Claim Form which you disagree with.
- ① For example, you should include:
 - key dates,
 - if there was an agreement, what was agreed,
 - when you became aware of the problem or dispute,
 - whether any payments have been made so far and, if so, what payments,
 - whether any services have been provided so far and, if so, what services.
- ① If this is insufficient space to describe the essential factual background, you may use another sheet of paper, which must be headed 'D1' and must be attached to the Response Form.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

D2. Why should the claim not be successful?

- ① You should set out briefly the reasons why the claim made against you should not be successful, and why the court should not make the orders which the claimant has asked for in the Claim Form.
- ① For example, reasons might include:
 - that you did not breach a contract with the claimant (e.g. work was completed satisfactorily),
 - that you did not cause the claimant damage or financial loss,
 - that you have the right to keep something belonging to the claimant (e.g. because a repair has not been paid for).
- ① If this is insufficient space to set out these reasons, you may use another sheet of paper, which must be headed 'D2' and must be attached to the Response Form.

D3. Are there any additional respondents you think should be responding to this claim?

- ① You should complete this section if you think that:
 - you have a right of contribution, relief or indemnity against someone who is already a respondent,
 - someone else should be made a respondent in this claim, as they are solely, jointly, or jointly and severally liable with you for the claim made against you,
 - someone else should be made a respondent in this claim as they are liable to you for the claim made against you.

① If you complete this section then the court may order you to formally serve the Claim Form and the Response Form on any additional respondents.

Yes (please complete D4)

No

D4. Which additional respondents do you think should be responding to this claim?

① Set out below the full names and addresses of any additional respondents you think should be responding to the claim made against you.

① Set out the reasons why each person should be an additional respondent to the claim made against you.

1. [Name] [Address] [Reasons why this person should be an additional respondent]
2 [Name] [Address] [Reasons why this person should be an additional respondent]

D5. What steps have you taken, if any, to try to settle the dispute with the claimant?

① It is an important principle of simple procedure that parties should be encouraged to settle their disputes by negotiation, where possible.

① The court will use this information to assess whether more negotiation would help you and the claimant settle your dispute.

E. WITNESSES, DOCUMENTS AND EVIDENCE

E1. Set out in a numbered list any witnesses you might bring to a hearing to support your response, their name and address, and what their relationship to the claim or response is.

① You should list any witnesses you think you might bring to a hearing. You do not need to list yourself or the claimant.

① You should provide the full name and address of any witnesses.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- ① Your claim may require no witnesses other than you and the claimant. You do not need to bring a witness if the evidence which they might give can be shown in some other way (e.g. by photographs).
- ① You should describe the relationship of each witness to the claim or response. For example, you might indicate that a witness:
 - was the person with whom you made an agreement,
 - was present when the alleged damage took place,
 - inspected some work which you consider to have been completed satisfactorily.
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 11 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to arrange the attendance of your witnesses.

1. [Name] [Address] [Relationship to the claim or response]
2. [Name] [Address] [Relationship to the claim or response]
3. [Name] [Address] [Relationship to the claim or response]

E2. Set out in a numbered list any documents you might bring to court to support your response.

- ① You should list any documents you think you might bring to a hearing. This includes photographs and other printed material which may be kept in a file.
- ① When preparing these documents for a hearing, it is useful if they are indexed with numbers.
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 10 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to lodge documents before that hearing.

E3. Set out any other pieces of evidence you intend to bring to a hearing to support your response.

- ① You should list any other evidence you think you might bring to a hearing.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- ① This includes objects, but not printed material. For example, if the claim was about damage caused to an item of clothing, you might list the item of clothing. You do not need to bring a piece of evidence if the important point can be shown in some other way (e.g. by photographs).
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 10 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to lodge other evidence before that hearing.

FORM 5A

The Simple Procedure Time to Pay Application

Sheriff Court	<input type="text"/>
Claimant	<input type="text"/>
Respondent	<input type="text"/>
Case reference number	<input type="text"/>

This is a Time to Pay Application. It is used to ask the sheriff to make an order for time to pay.

If you would like debt advice or financial guidance, you may wish to contact the Citizens Advice Bureau or another advisory or assistance organisation.

If you complete a Time to Pay Application it means that you are admitting the claim made against you by the claimant for the payment of a sum of money.

Only an individual (not a company or another type of organisation) may ask for time to pay. If you are a company or another type of organisation and accept that the claim against you is correct, you should try to settle the claim with the claimant.

The respondent may ask for time to pay by completing this application and either:

- (a) sending it to court, or
- (b) bringing it to court at any discussion, case management discussion or hearing.

Before completing this form, you should read Part 5 of the Simple Procedure Rules, which is about asking for time to pay.

There are two situations in which the court can make an order for time to pay: under the Debtors (Scotland) Act 1987 and under the Consumer Credit Act 1974.

Time to pay under the Debtors (Scotland) Act 1987

The Debtors (Scotland) Act 1987 gives you the right to apply to the court for an order which allows you to pay any sum which the court orders you to pay either in instalments or by deferred lump sum. A "deferred lump sum" means that you will be ordered by the court to pay the whole amount at one time within a period which the court will specify.

If the court makes an order, it may also recall or restrict any arrestment made on your property by the claimant in connection with the claim or debt (for example, your bank account may have been frozen).

If an order is made, a copy of the Decision Form will be sent to you telling you when payment should start or when it is you have to pay the lump sum.

If an order is not made, and an order for immediate payment is made against you, a Charge may be served on you if you do not pay.

Under the Debtors (Scotland) Act 1987, the court is required to make an order if satisfied that it is reasonable in the circumstances to do so, and having regard in particular to the following matters:

- the nature of and reasons for the debt in relation to which the order is requested,
- any action taken by the creditor to assist the debtor in paying the debt,
- the debtor's financial position,
- the reasonableness of any proposal by the debtor to pay that debt,
- the reasonableness of any refusal or objection by the creditor to any proposal or offer by the debtor to pay the debt.

Time to pay under the Consumer Credit Act 1974

The Consumer Credit Act 1974 allows you to apply to the court for an order asking the court to give you more time to pay a loan agreement. This order can only be applied for where the claim is about a credit agreement regulated by the Consumer Credit Act 1974. The court has power to make an order in respect of a regulated agreement to reschedule payment of the sum owed. This means that an order can change:

- the amount you have to pay each month,
- how long the loan will last,
- in some cases, the interest rate payable.

An order can also stop the creditor taking away any item bought by you on hire purchase or conditional sale under the regulated agreement, so long as you continue to pay the instalments agreed.

The court has received an Application to Recall.

The sheriff has given the following orders:-

Discussion in court

The sheriff wants to hear from both parties before deciding whether to recall the decision.

Both parties are ordered to attend a discussion at [sheriff court] on [date] at [time]. Both parties should arrive in good time at the sheriff court building.

The party making the application must send the other party a copy of the Application to Recall [and the Response Form] at least 5 days before the date of the discussion.

The parties must bring with them the Decision Form in this case. If the sheriff decides to recall the decision, the Decision Form must be given to the sheriff clerk.

The decision must not be enforced until the sheriff has decided the application.

At this discussion, the sheriff will expect parties to be prepared to discuss whether the decision should be recalled and what should happen next in the case if the decision is recalled. Both parties should be aware that the sheriff may decide the application even where they are not fully prepared to discuss it or in the absence of a party.

The case may be decided or dismissed in the absence of a party if that party fails to attend.

Signed by: Sheriff of [sheriffdom] at [sheriff court]
