DETERMINATION AND REASONS

1. The applicant's appeal was heard by the First-tier Tribunal and on a proper reading of the decision of the First-tier Tribunal it was plain that the appeal had been allowed. Unfortunately the First-tier Tribunal judge in her final paragraph dismissed the appeal. This was plainly an error. The appellant was granted permission to appeal on the basis of the internal contradictions.
2. The respondent, in a letter dated 18th April 2016 did not oppose the appellant's application for permission and invited the Tribunal to send the appeal back to the First-tier Tribunal to correct the accidental slip, for the decision to be repromulgated and the amended decision to be re-served on all parties.
3. In the light of the respondent's response to the grant of permission I set aside the decision of the First-tier Tribunal and remit it to the First-tier Tribunal to be remade, correcting the accidental slip to make clear that the appeal has been allowed and to enable it to be reserved on all parties.
