 - The public authority must provide a substantive response to the request in accordance with its obligations under FOIA.¹

Request and response

5. On 28 November 2024, the complainant wrote to the public authority and requested information regarding the alleged murder of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] in Thailand in May 2023. The request was made in the following terms:

"We would be grateful if you could provide us with the following information:

1. Have Sussex Police provided support for the investigation by the Thai authorities into the disappearance and death of these two individuals?
 - a. If so, has that support extended to assistance for the criminal investigation into, and/or prosecution of the alleged perpetrator(s)?
2. Have Sussex Police collaborated with any UK Government departments in supporting the Thai authorities' investigation and/or prosecution? If so, please confirm which departments have been involved.
3. Have Sussex Police acted in collaboration with any other UK police forces in connection with the Thai authorities' investigation and/or prosecution? If so, please confirm which UK police force(s).
4. If support is being provided, please confirm whether legal, risk and human rights impact assessments (such as those conducted under the Overseas Justice and Security Assistance human rights guidance) were carried out beforehand."

Reasons for decision

6. Section 1(1) of FOIA states that:

"Any person making a request for information to a public authority is entitled –

- (a) to be informed in writing by the public authority whether it holds information of the description specified in the request, and
- (b) if that is the case, to have that information communicated to him."

7. Section 10(1) of FOIA states that a public authority must respond to a request promptly and "not later than the twentieth working day following the date of receipt".
8. On 28 March 2024 the Commissioner wrote to the public authority, reminding it of its responsibilities and asking it to provide a substantive response to the complainant's request within 10 working days.
9. Despite this intervention the public authority has failed to respond to the complainant.
10. From the evidence provided to the Commissioner in this case, it is clear that the public authority did not deal with the request for information in accordance with FOIA. The Commissioner finds that the public authority has breached section 10(1) by failing to respond to the request within 20 working days and it is now required to respond to the request in accordance with FOIA.
